Knock off the Rust Clinics

We had waaay too much snow this past winter, and it is time to get back out on the course! It is tough over the cold months to keep your game in mid-summer form, so how about you come out to our Knock Off The Rust clinics and quickly gain the form you had last year! Each session will include PGA Instructor Alex Knoll demonstrating and teaching a certain topic, and then helping each golfer individually as you practice. Come on out to learn something new and get in a quality practice session early in the season!

Goals Driven Golf

Have you ever just wanted to stay on a certain hole and practice a certain shot, but right when you threw the extra balls down another group came up behind you? If so, this program is for you! Each week PGA Instructor Alex Knoll will pick certain on-course shots that plague golfers the most and will review how to solve these tough shots. The focus of this program is to lower your scores by pin-pointing problem areas from putting, short game, long game, and course management. All ability levels are welcome because each trouble area can be improved for various skill set golfers.
